O'Hara, D.D., Bishop of Kansas City. Mary Louise Aylward, Elizabeth Bourk, Martina Burke, Margaret Fitzsimons, Marjorie Griffin, Jo Ann Hickey, Santa Lococo, Irene O'Leary, Sister Mary De Pazzi Doherty, C.S.J., and Sister Mary Valmira Simunjack, O.S.F., will receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts; Nanette M. Murphy will receive the degree of Bachelor of Science in Home Economics.

The candidates for degrees will be presented to Bishop O'Hara by the Very Reverend Thomas B. McDonald. Reverend Doctor Joseph B. Code, Director of the Inter-American Institute, will give the graduation address.

Baccalaureate June 4

Sunday, June 4, marked the beginning of the thirty-first annual commencement activities with Baccalaureate exercises at seven-thirty in the evening.

On the rolling slopes of the college campus, Margaret Fitzsimons, president of the Student Association for the year 1943-1944, presented the College banner to Mabel Prichard, newly elected president. Marjorie Griffin, vice-president of the senior class, added a new link to the historic spade which was used to break ground for both the Music and Arts building and the Science building. Martina Burke, president of the senior class, planted a magnolia tree, the choice of the class of 1944 as their campus tree.

In the auditorium of the Music and Arts building, the Very Reverend Thomas B. McDonald, pastor of Visitation church, gave the Baccalaureate address, and the Reverend Joseph J. Killgallon, professor of religion, conferred the hoods upon the graduates. Solemn Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, with Monsignor McDonald as celebrant and Reverend Joseph Killgallon and Reverend E. J. Taney as deacons, closed Baccalaureate Day.

Wagnerians Feature The Tower Scene

On Monday, May 1, the final meeting of The Wagnerians was held in the Auditorium, with the newly elected president, Rose Marie Carrollo, presiding.

Following a short business meeting, Mary Beth Malsie, program committee chairman, introduced Jeanne Budinger who gave a brief resume of the play "Mary of Scotland" by Maxwell Anderson.

Then a cutting from the final scene, popularly known as "The Tower Scene" was dramatized by Barbara Brennan as Mary of Scotland, and Pat Exler as Elizabeth of England. Miss Lillian R. Wagner was in charge of the production.

Margret Fitzsimons Named To Kappa Gamma Pi

Senior Is Second To Receive Golden Key

Margret Fitzsimons has been selected by the faculty as a member of Kappa Gamma Pi, honor sorority of Catholic women. The qualifications for admission to Kappa Gamma Pi are remarkable degrees of service, leadership, scholarship, and character. Each year the quota to be filled by any one member college is limited to ten per cent of the number of degrees conferred that year.

The Kappa Gamma Pi society has as its motto, "Faith and Service." It was organized in 1929 to provide an outlet for the abilities of capable graduates who are entering the active life of their communities. Kappa Gamma Pi membership is designed to be the highest praise college authorities can give a graduate.

Margret is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Fitzsimons, 5334 Tracy. She was student council representative during her junior year and has served as student association president this past year. She is a member of the board of the IRC and has been active in Sodality and CSMC work.

Margret is the second graduate of St. Teresa's to receive the Kappa Gamma Pi key. The first key was given to Helen Dwyer Maloney, '43.

Editor Re-appointed To Head Staff Of Teresian

Miss Dolores Riley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Riley and editor of The Teresian for the past year, has accepted the commitment for the year of 1944-1945.

This is welcome news to both students and faculty for Dolores' wide experience in the field has been an incomparable aid. The success of the paper this year has been almost completely due to the untiring and unselfish efforts of the editor. Never once has she failed to adhere to her responsibility. Not only has she edited, but she has telephoned, typed, reported, served as messenger and delivery boy, made frequent trips to the post office and the printer—in short, she has functioned in every type of work involved in getting out the paper. It has often meant staying up late (far into the night) and sacrificing Saturday afternoons and evenings.

Her faithfulness has been an inspiration to the whole staff.

We wish her the best of luck and cooperation in the forthcoming scholastic year.

Sodalists Receive Papal Blessing From Vatican

Segreteria di Stato
Di
Sua Santita.
Vatican City

April 6, 1944

Dear Mr. Joyce Bogart.

Your very kind message sent on behalf of the students of the College of Saint Teresa, has recently reached the Holy Father through the kindness of the Apostolic Delegate.

His Holiness has now charged me with the pleasant duty of conveying to you and your fellow students His thanks for the very valuable assistance you have rendered Him by your prayers for His intentions, and of His appreciation of the truly filial sentiments which inspired you to dedicate a day of prayer and adoration.

He is very pleased to know that you intend to continue and to multiply these acts and surely such prayers will hasten the day of the return of peace to the war-torn world. In His benevolent gratitude His Holiness lovingly imparts to you, and all participating in the Day of Prayer, His Apostolic Benediction.

Assuring you of my esteem and with kind personal regards, I remain, Yours very sincerely in Christ,

L. Card. Maglione.

Notice of the above mentioned day of prayer and adoration appeared in an earlier issue of The Teresian. At that time a letter from the Apostolic delegate, Amelito Cicognani, commending the Sodalists, was published.

About Your Education

We Catholics are not backward in the matter of education. Concerning this particular field we have been most emphatic, having as our motto "Every Catholic child in a Catholic school." In addition to their maintenance of secular schools by the payment of taxes, Catholics also accept, yes even demand, that their own private schools operate supported by donations of varying sums never easily scraped together.

Now, what happens to the education? Is it a virile, vibrant thing that continues to expand profitably long after the diploma has been rolled away in moth balls. Or does it stop when the degree has been conferred and accepted and the student heaves a sigh of relief that his days of study—to him the days of accumulating knowledge—are over?

Your higher education shows you the why and the how; you can't fold it up and put it away any more than you can fold away your life. God gave us a chance—we took it. Now then, let's give something back to God. Are you going to college simply to get a better job? Why not attend a vocational school? Are you going to college to gain knowledge for yourself alone? Why not stay at home and read, read, read and keep it for yourself? But maybe you're going to college to learn about life—to expand and illuminate your brain a little—to make it more Christ-like. If that's the case then ahead of you lie thirty, forty, fifty years more of study, analysis, and exchange of ideas. If that's the case then you must give to others what you have received in the manner of Christ, your model.

We have the duty of spreading truth, the Truth that was handed to us; we have the honor of being world leaders, intellectual leaders that the world awaits. What's the sense of taking a back seat? Destiny is calling. An energetic, influential new life is in the offing. Take that call—you have the right answer.

Class Day May 29

The 1944 class celebrated class day—it couldn't be better—St. Teresa's. With unprecedented ceremonies the morning of May 29. Carrying lighted candles to symbolize the torch of learning, the seniors entered the Assembly Hall in procession to music played by Mary Joan McKinley. Behind them came the juniors and finally the student association officers, past and present. The juniors presented each of the seniors with a rose as a congratulatory token upon the completion of their college work and the seniors in turn gave to the juniors the lighted candles that the latter might carry on in the CST tradition of Catholicity and learning. The old officers of the Student Association officially resigned and handed over the implements of office to the incoming officers who presented the former with boutonnieres.

The juniors collaborated upon the class prophecy which was read by Betty Snediker. Betty Bourk read the seniors' last will, the text of which follows:

We, the 1944 Senior Class of the College of St. Teresa, being of sound mind, do hereby make this, our last will and testament.

To the Junior class we leave the anticipation of the Senior Comprehensives and our ditch day sunburn. To the Sophomore class we leave our collective wisdom and knowledge. To the Freshman class we leave a portion of our loyalty to St. Teresa's with the hope that they may grow to love her as we do.

To the entire faculty and student body we leave our unending good wishes and our prayers for a bigger

For our individual remembrances, Martina Burke leaves her knowledge of philosophy to Rosemary O'Leary, and her "Kentucky" accent to Mina Hidalgo.

Marjorie Griffin leaves her dignified sobriety to Helen Jane Gray, and her perfect attendance to Kathleen Kennalley.

Nan Murphy leaves her waistline to Rosalie Hammer, and her designing ability — clothes we mean — to Augustine Rinella.

Santa Lococo leaves her ability to squeeze money out of the Seniors to her successor, whoever she may be, and her jewelry to Betty O'Neill.

Jo Ann Hickey leaves her terpsichorean ability to Matty Pat Campbell, and her "I wish I were dead" to the entire school that they may not forget us.

Margret Fitzsimons leaves her calm serenity in spite of everything to Mabel Prichard, and her height to the Fritton twins.

Mary Louise Aylward leaves her zeal for study to Betty Snediker and her ability to dodge the faculty on necessary occasions to Mary Ellen Trotter.

Irene O'Leary leaves her biological ability to Jean Budinger, and her intelligence to Louise Youngdoff.

Betty Bourk leaves her specially processed cloth for polishing apples to Rosemary Flanagan, and her engagement ring, but not Jay, to Dorothy Dostal.

To close the program, the student body sang the college song and The Star Spangled Banner.

Ex Libris

The Keyes Memorial Library has recently added to its collection eight volumes of Monsignor Sheehan's addresses in book form.

Miss Sarah Redding has donated books which belonged to her sister, Margaret Redding of the class of 1885. Miss Margaret Redding was the first president of the Alumnae Association.

The Best American Short Stories of 1943 is ready to go on the shelf. Furthermore, the Britannica Year Book is ready for your perusal.

Historians, don't miss European Civilization by Eyre, consisting of seven volumes. We recommend for Latin America enthusiasts The Americas and Tomorrow, by Virginia Prewett, a review of the events which brought on the wave of popular interest between us and our Latin American neighbors.

The Crisis of Our Age, by P. A. Sorokin brings to light the social and cultural outlook of the world in which we are now living.

Scientists will be interested in the Dictionary of Bio-Chemistry, by Edward Malisoff and Burkland's Micro-Biology and Man. Recently have been added The True Life, by Luigi Sturzo; The Social Message of Jesus, by Igino Giordani; Christian Behavior, by C. S. Lewis; Houselander's The Reed of God; and Blessed Are the Meek, a novel about St. Francis of Assisi, by Zofia Kossak.

A book of narrative poetry involving a simple theme centered around our Blessed Mother is A Woman Wrapped in Silence, by John Lynch.

Cummings and Hofer have written St. John Capistran, and S.M.C.'s latest book is Once in Cornwall. You will remember the latter as author of Children Under Fire.

At last the long wished for short cut to learning history is on the shelf in the form of News of the Nation, a newspaper history of the United States edited by Sylvan Hoffman. Major events in the history of our country from the discovery of America by Columbus to Pearl Harbor are written in journalistic style.

We can't mention here the innumerable magazines found in the Reference Room. Come in and browse around.

Dear Dorothy

Dear Miss Gris-X:

I am writing this problem to you on behalf of myself and the student body of the school I attend. If it were but one complication, I would not bother you, but, as it is, there are nine complications. Fantastic, isn't it? You wouldn't think they (yes, there are nine girls involved) are fantastic . . . if you knew them. You would say fascinating. These girls have done wonders for the school and the student body is at a loss at seeing the graduation day approach. The seniors aren't any too happy to graduate, either (I've been told). Now, my problem is this: Lo you suppose, Miss Gris-X, that we can come to an agreement such as keeping them here a couple of more years?

Anxious Annie

Answer

Dear Anxious Annie:

From what you have told me, I gather that this group of girls are out of the ordinary. That is, they are students worth knowing. I can say that I would find it difficult, too, seeing them graduate, but remember, Annie, they must have had a fine education, and now that it is completed, they have a job to do. Don't stand in the way, but be glad that they go out into the world with a most priceless gift—a college education.

Two alumnae members, unable to attend recollection day on May 7, wrote letters instead. Said Sister Rose Anthony, CSJ (Ruth Marie Schmidt, CST '35) "To one and all, especially those with whom it was my pleasure to be most closely associated, I extend my most sincere, heartfelt and prayerful greetings."

Mary Jane Gibbons, CST '38, writes: "Since September, 1943, I have been employed as a Catholic case worker by the Family and Children's Bureau in Kansas City, Kansas. . . I received a Masters Degree in Social Work from the School of Social Service of St. Louis University in July, 1943. . . You no doubt are aware of the growing need for trained social workers, and I hope there are some future candidates for this profession now at St. Teresa's. . . I have been thankful many times for the wonderful training that I received at St. Teresa's."

The Bill Mathews Home

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mathews (Kay O'Connor '43) are in Kansas City. Bill is home on a furlough from Norfolk.

The group will leave this summer for the small gold mining town of Siuna where they will establish a school. Says Sister Grace Dolores, "I am delighted to go and to be a 'pioneer' is indeed a privilege."

Carolyn Cavanaugh To Wed

Carolyn Cavanaugh has set the date of her wedding to Lieutenant Jack Stanton for July 11 at St. Peter's Church.

Rita Dey Marries

Tunely Topics

The Music Club has purchased a third section of risers to present to the Music department. These choral steps are now being used in all the public appearances of the chorus.

As the climax to hours of practice in preparation for their spring recital, choral club members took time out for a gala party in the cafeteria the night of May 25. Each girl received a gold miraculous medal and food was in abundance. A popular song fest ended the party which has been a custom of the chorus for several years.

Good-Bye All

As we rush madly to the printer's with this piece of "journalistic achievement"—our last for the year—we pause to thank all of you who have contributed so much in time and effort and every other way to make The Teresian a success. We particularly thank all of the CST'ers who so generously bought pie after pie and cake after cake to the detriment of that so important "120 lbs.", but to the advantage of the paper.

Thanks, too, to our many patrons and advertisers. So, with a final flourish we pack away the pre-war typewriter that won't type e's and bid you Good-Bye until next fall.

Sigma Chi Iota Chosen As Science Club Name

Sigma Chi Iota has been chosen as the name for the recently formed science club.

The club has as its purpose "the fostering of interest in the past, present, and future of scientific subjects."

Officers to preside during the coming year are Kathleen Kennally, president, and Dolores Boedeker, secretary-treasurer. The vice-president will be elected later. To be eligible for the office of president, a candidate must be a science major or minor.

A constitution adopted at the last meeting limits the membership to students having completed at least eight hours in science and members of the alumnae who are interested and who likewise have eight hours in science. Meetings, time and place will be decided next year.

Priest Gives Angles On Marriage

At the May 1 meeting of the C.S. M.C. Father R. J. Schumacher discussed Christian marriage comprehensively. The salient points of his talk were the avoidance of prolonged engagements, the necessity of preparation for marriage through prayer and regular attendance at the Sacraments. Father said one or one and a half years is ample time for any engagement to last.

To avoid getting into a marriage entanglement, he said, avoid going out with divorced men. Consider a date as a remote possibility of marriage. Keep your standards of conduct high. One misstep for a girl may be fatal.

CST Girls Interview Governor Donnell

Five members of the Science Club on their way to St. Louis for the Missouri Academy of Science Convention were privileged to have an interview with Governor Donnell on the train.

He and Mrs. Donnell boarded the train at Jefferson City and sat across from the girls. Faint giggles and whispers were exchanged, while the five science enthusiasts hoped for an interview.

The gracious smile and friendly manner of the governor finally led to a conversation on South America.

Governor Donnell spoke of friendly war trade relations between the two Americas and the significance of post-war economy with Latin America. He said the thirty million people there offer vast possibilities for trade with the United States.

The train's arrival in St. Louis suburbs terminated a most informative conversation and the delegates to the science convention counted the time spent talking with their state's first citizen as the high light of the trip to St. Louis.

Satins and Tweeds

We noted at the dance for the Brookside cadets—

Pat McManus quite "Vogue-ish" in her full, multi-colored skirt and white, round-necked jersey blouse.

Jeannette Azar—attractive miss in a blue and white dotted swiss.

Joan Fitzgerald, very smooth in a checkered skirt with a green jacket. Her hair was done in a delightful up-sweep.

A much traveled sailor home from the sea. He's a cousin to Rose Marie—of course you knew.

White orchids on that sleek black formal of Martina's.

Ellen Walsh whirling about in a patriotic number of red, white and blue.

Mary Elizabeth Hessel's blue taffeta—just matches her eyes.

Louise Puh's rhinestones, necklace and bracelet.

Augustine Rinella's sweet blue dress.

Dorothy McAvoy did it again—out styled everyone with her many ruffled dress.

Kathryn Child's peach marquisette formal which is truly delectable.

Seen at Tommy Dorsey the other night: Matty Pat Campbell in a pale blue number sprinkled with rosebuds—ah, those eagerly awaited furloughs!

Mary Ellen Trotter was in her usual dither last week—and then some—when two of her flames arrived in town on the same day unannounced. Poor Mary Ellen—we wish we had half her trouble.

To Meet Government Needs for Transportation, Fuel, Manpower and Materials

We ask you to conserve in your use of electricity. There is no shortage of electric power to meet needs of all our customers, but to eliminate waste and to save where possible, is an aid to the war effort.

Unique Piano Given To Music Dept.

The piano pictured above was recently given to the school by Mr. Frank Teupe and his sister, Miss Louise Teupe, now of Raytown, Missouri. The instrument was designed by Mr. Frank Teupe, senior, who he was a noted organist. Mr. Teupe lived in Louisville, Kentucky, where took many years to design the interior, since he would often make an action, a plate, and then break it and start anew to perfect the design.

Consequently, he died before it was put on the market and the piano has no duplicate. It was patented in 1896. Louise Teupe was with her father the greater part of the time he was making it. Mr. Teupe did not do the carving himself but a professional woodcarver finished the highly polished mahogany case which is done in an authentic early English design.

The entire case is composed of several sections which fit compactly together with a minimum of screws due to perfect fitting of pegs and ingenious hinging.

Edna Philipps Weds Lt. Robbins At St. James'

Coule At Home In Pennsylvania

CST'ers thronged the front steps of the Music and Arts Building the morning of May 4 as the former Edna Philipps arrived with her husband, Lieutenant Wayne A. Robbins, to follow the traditional custom of signing the St. Teresa register of alumnae who have married. The couple arrived from a double ring ceremony at St. James Church at which Msgr. John W. Keyes officiated.

The bride wore a white satin gown with fitted bodice and aisle wide train. Her finger tip veil was held in place with a tiara of pearls and she carried a bouquet of orchids with stephanitis. Her sister, Bernice, acting as maid of honor, wore a shell pink lace gown with tight basque and bouffant skirt. Mr. Martin J. Philipps, cousin of the bride, was best man.

Edna, a member of the class of '45, is the daughter of Mr. George Philipps, and Lieut. Robbins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Robbins of Oak Park, Illinois.

The wedding breakfast, held at the Newbern Hotel, was attended only by the wedding party and family. Following the afternoon reception the couple left to visit Lt. Robbins' parents and then went to Phoenixville, Pennsylvania, where they are living now. Lt. Robbins is stationed at the Valley Forge hospital in Phoenixville.

Members of the junior class and those in the microtechnique class of which Edna was a member gave a shower at Donnelly Hall, Friday afternoon, April 28.

Seniors To Erect Mary's Grotto On Campus

Plans are being completed for the erection of a grotto in honor of Our Lady of Lourdes in the center of the group of lilac bushes between Donnelly Hall and the Music and Arts Building. The proposed grotto will be built of rocks in a manner similar to the Sacred Heart grotto and will contain a statue of Our Lady of Lourdes and a statue of Saint Bernadette. Members of the graduating class of '44 have chosen the statue of Our Lady as their parting gift to the school.

The statue of Saint Bernadette is the gift of Carolyn and Santa Lococo, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lococo, 346 S. Jackson Blvd. Santa is a member of the graduating class of '44 and Carolyn graduated from the junior college in '41. Both girls completed their high school work at St. Teresa's Academy.

Said Santa: "Both Carolina and I wish to give permanent expression to our appreciation of the many happy days we spent at St. Teresa's."

St. Teresa's Is Host To City Alumnae

Rev. E. J. Taney Says
Mass and Addresses
Catholic Alumnae

The Alumnae Associations of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae of Kansas City, gathered at the College of St. Teresa for the annual Mary's Day, May 21. St. Teresa's Academy and College, St. Vincent's Academy, Loretto Academy, and St. Aloysius Academy were all represented. Invitations were extended to members of the senior classes of all Catholic high schools.

Mary's Day is held each year in order that Catholic alumnae may rededicate themselves to the Virgin Mary, patroness of the IFCA.

Rev. E. J. Taney, director of the Catholic Welfare Bureau of Kansas City, celebrated Mass in the chapel of the Music and Arts Building.

Father appealed to the women to keep high their standards that they might be an antidote and a guard against the immorality and disrespect for womanhood so rampant in the world today.

After Mass, breakfast was served in the science building. Mrs. McDonald, Missouri governor of the IFCA, presided. An appeal was made to the women to write Senator Truman in opposition to the equal rights bill now being considered by the Missouri legislature.

It was announced that the state meeting of IFCA will be held in Kansas City in the fall.

Those interested in social welfare were invited to attend the meetings which are held at the Catholic Welfare Bureau from 2-4 p.m., the third Saturday of each month.

Some ten years ago a $10,000 fund was established, the interest of which provides a scholarship to any university for a sister from some teaching community residing in Missouri. This year the name drawn was the BVM order at St. Vincent's Academy in Kansas City.
